SIXTY-FIVE AGED MEN ARE SEEKING

Seven Are Admitted With Opening of John Dickson Institution.

With seven men over the age of sixty-five admitted, with eighteen application passed upon, and more than sixty-five applications actually submited, the John Dickson Home for Aged Men formally opened on New Year day, promises to fulfill thoroughly the urpose for which it was established, fficials of the institution declare. Folowing the reception of Tuesday night, when officers and directors of the Washington Loan and Trust Company, which was made trustee of the funds under the will of the late Henry Dickson, held a luncheon and reception with a tour of inspection, the doors of the home were thrown open New Year morning and applicants will be passed upon as rapidly as possible until the capacity of the institution is reached. Hundreds inspected the home yes-

Washington Loan and Trust Company, sald today there was little doubt of the need of the home, as shown by the er of aplications received. "We could fill the home at once and have a that," he said. He explained that there the most eligible would be considfor places. "Not that any real outsides sentinel (re-elected, twelfth year); Arthur Demming, chaplain; T.
M. Harkness, junior past counciler; for places. "Not that any real John L. Jones, S. E. Frye, and R. A. was no intention of making the home a charity in the ordinary sense, and that only the most eligible would be considworthy ones will be denied," he said, but we wish all applications to be formal and dignified in order that the real purpose of providing not a workhouse but a real home in the strict rense, may be fulfilled."

The buildings of the institution on Fourteenth street, between Gallatin and Fourteenth street, between Gallatin and Farragut streets, have accommodations for between sixty and seventy men, but this capacity can be considerably increased when more from is needed. The institution is supported by funds provided by the late Henry Dickson, who died in London. September 22. 30., and who founded it as a memorial to his father. John Dickson, who came here from Ireland in 1859 and opened a coal business in Georgetown. The buildings and grounds represent an investment of about $175.000, and there is a large endowment fund. Arrangements are being made to incorporate a separate company to manage the institution. This is expected to be completed within the next sixty days.

CITIZENS SAVINGS BANK

A New Year With a New Opportunity

1912 has gone and has taken with it all its mistakes and lost opportunities. Today you are facing a new year full of possibilities and bright prospects. What are you going to do about it?

Will you still spend up to the limit of your income, or will you lay aside that portion that you have been wasting?

That dollar here, another there, that you could have saved during 1912 would have made quite a respectable sum to your credit today. Enough to make you feel independent, and help you grasp the big opportunity when it comes.

Resolve to start the New Year by opening a savings account at this bank-start it with one dollar, if that is all you can spare-but get it started now.

We pay 3 per cent interest on savings accounts and 2 per cent interest on checking accounts.

We will be pleased to give you full particulars.

en-week short winter course at the Maryland Agricultural College will ommence next Monday.

One of the most important problems that confronted the faculty of the institution immediately after the fire that lestroyed two of the buildings in Norember was the obtaining of quarters in which to hold the lectures of the short course. Director H. J. Patterson, of the agricultural experiment station, solved the problem. One of the buildings at the station was being made over and fitted up for biological laboratories for the manufacture of hog cholers for the manufacture of hog cholers serum.
